GROWERS APPROVE 3-YEAR MARKETING QUOTAS FOR BURLEY TOBACCO

Preliminary returns from burley tobacco-producing States show that growers have approved marketing quotas for the 1977-79 crops. The mail referendum was conducted by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) of the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) during the week of February 22-25.

Telephone returns from ASCS State offices indicated that 99.0 percent of the 244,816 voters were in favor of marketing quotas Current legislation stipulates that the Secretary of Agriculture was required to announce a 3-year program of marketing quotas for burley tobacco no later than February 1. After the announcement, a referendum was required and two-thirds of the growers voting had to favor the quota program for it to take effect.

On February1, USDA also announced the 1977 national burley tobacco marketing quota at 637 million pounds, virtually unchanged from 1976. In last week's referendum, growers approved not only the marketing quota program for 1977-79 but also the specific, announced marketing quota for 1977. For 1978 and 1970, the Secretary has the authority to adjust the national marketing quota (within legislated limits) without grower approval.

Because of the vote, price support will be available on the next three crops. Any tobacco produced inexcess of 110 percent of a farm's marketing quota will be subject to a marketing penalty of 75 percent of the average market price for the previous year.

Current legislation provides for referendums to be held every three years. Since 1944, producers have consistently approved quotas for majorities of between 93 and 99 percent.

GROWERS APPROVE MARKETING QUOTAS FOR VIRGINIA SUN-CURED TOBACCO - The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced March 3 the preliminary returns for mail referendum (February 22-25) showing tobacco growers have approved marketing quotas for the 1977,1978, and 1979 crops of Virginia Sun-cured tobacco.

Telephone returns from Virginia indicated that 95.8 percent of the 403 voters in the sun-cured referendum approve marketing quotas.

Since marketing quotas were approved by more than the necessary two-thirds of those voting in the refrendum, they will continue in effect for the 1977, 1978 and 1979 crops of Virginia sun-cured tobacco.

Price-support loans will be available on the next three crops. Any tobacco produced in excess of farm acreage allotment will be subject to a marketing penalty of the average market price for the previous marketing year.

USDA ANNOUNCES RESULTS OF MARYLAND TOBACCO REFERENDUM- Preliminary results show that tobacco growers have overwhelmingly disapproved marketing quotas for Maryland tobacco.

The vote which was conducted by mail February 22-25 covers the 1977-1979 marketing years.

On February 1, USDA proclaimed marketing quotas for these two types of tobacco for the 1977-79 marketing years. However, before marketing could take effect, two-thirds of the producers voting had to approve the quota program. Since growers disapproved quotas, there will be unlimited production and no price support on Maryland tobacco.

Quotas were last in effect for Maryland tobacco in 1965.

The ASCS Office has the tabulated results of these referenda by county, state and national figures. Anyone who is interested in obtaining these figures may contact the ASCS office.
